

Entertainment & Arts

To binge watch - I binge watched the whole of season 3 of

To binge eat

Binge worthy -

Thought provoking - The book / the film / the show was very thought provoking.

To provoke someone - Stop provoking him! (trying to affect in some way)

A masterpiece

A cult classic - Jaws

It has a cult following

A cult / a sect

A classic

To stand the test of time- Still popular today as it was fifty years ago

It has stood the test of time.

To leave a lasting impression - it still affects you (good or bad)

To live up to the hype - It's as good as everyone says it is.

To steal the show - stand out from everyone else because they are the best

I can relate to it

Genre - romance/ sci fi / thriller / horror / fantasy /documentary / biography

Genre - rock/pop/jazz/classical/chill/heavy metal/electronic/salsa

Adjectives to describe books/films

Gripping: So exciting that it holds your attention completely.

Moving: Producing strong feelings of sadness or sympathy.

Predictable: You can easily guess what will happen next.

Unpredictable

Slow-paced: The story moves very slowly.

Fast - paced - moves fast

A page turner: so good that you want to read it fast / turn the pages quickly.

Overrated: Not as good as people say it is.

Underrated: Better than people say it is

Realistic / unrealistic

Confusing

Boring

It's addictive

The lead singer- Mick Jagger

To dub - the movie is dubbed

Are you a big reader?

Can you remember the name of the first album you ever bought?

It depends on

You can feel the energy, the environment

It's more atmospheric

I have never seen it

I have never read it

It ended on a cliffhanger

Emotional maintenance

Entertainment & Arts

Can Music affect your mood? Which is your “go-to” music?

Is there a book or movie from your childhood that you still remember to this day?

Which is more powerful: a story you read, a movie you watch, or a song you hear?

Do you think streaming services like Netflix have ruined the "cinema experience," or have they made entertainment better?

Which artist, musician, or writer do you think has truly stood the test of time?

Do you prefer watching a play or concert live, or is it better to watch a recording at home?

When a classic movie is remade for a modern audience, is it usually a disappointment? Is the re-make ever better than the original?

Have you ever visited a city or a country just because you saw it in a film or read about it in a book?

Do you like stories that are easy to predict, or do you prefer a massive cliffhanger or plot twist?

Can you read or work with music playing in the background, or do you need total silence?