

Homework Exercise: Complete the sentences with the correct adjective.

confused	envious	nervous	depressed
excited	proud	disappointed	frustrated
relieved	disgusted	jealous	surprised
embarrassed	lonely	suspicious

1. He gets very jealous every time another man looks at his girlfriend.
2. I felt very proud when my son was chosen for the national football team.
3. She became extremely depressed when her husband died and she cried a lot.
4. I was very nervous about driving again after my car crash.
5. I felt embarrassed when I said "congratulations" to a woman because I thought she was pregnant, but she wasn't!!
6. I was very surprised when I found out President George W. Bush was Usama Bin Laden's cousin.
7. I feel very frustrated when my English teacher explains some English grammar several times but I still can't understand him.
8. I was very disappointed when I failed my final exam.
9. Sometimes I feel very lonely living on my own with nobody to talk to.
10. My girlfriend was suspicious when she found lipstick on my shirt and smelled perfume on my clothes.
11. My grandfather gets confused because he's old and he's got a bad memory.
12. I felt envious when my neighbour bought a brand-new Ferrari.
13. The children got very excited when they were opening their presents last Christmas.
14. I was very relieved to hear that nobody was hurt in the crash.
15. I felt completely disgusted when I saw an over-weight man wearing a thong on the beach.