

COUNTABLES AND UNCOUNTABLES

– find the grammatical mistake (if there is one)

1. 200,000 kronor are a lot of money. I don't have them.
2. I told him to take a taxi because I hadn't got any car.
3. I asked Folkuniversitetet if they could help me, but they couldn't.
4. Either of the managers is available. Which would you prefer?
5. The economics of the plan are worrying shareholders.
6. The company admits liability for the breach, but disputes the amount claimed.
7. A majority of the employees at the company is women.
8. He has great experiences from his work in the department.
9. Every one of the employees are aware of this.
10. The news are very bad, I'm afraid.
11. The only people interested in the book seems to be teachers.
12. A large amount of people were waiting in the auditorium.
13. An increasing number of people is working remotely.
14. An early analysis of the results show an improvement.
15. The committee are meeting next week.
16. Last year, there was over 300 people working at the firm.